

Enrichment Opportunities Bulletin

February 2016

1. LENS@Wake Forest 2016 Summer Program Announcement

LENS@Wake Forest is a three week summer program that equips current high school students with an academic foundation necessary to become global citizens and provides an interdisciplinary and experiential learning environment characteristic of the liberal arts education - without the pressure of grades or credit. Rising high school juniors and seniors spend three weeks living on campus at Wake Forest University discovering how to change the way they learn, the way they think, and the way they lead. Students can join us June 26 - July 15, 2016 and explore one of our two exceptional academic opportunities: Global Sustainability or Cultural Crossroads.

To apply, students must provide a completed LENS admission application, an official transcript, and two brief essays. Applications are reviewed and admission decisions are made on a rolling basis until the program is full. Students may access the application and read more at lens.wfu.edu.

We welcome applications from U.S. and international students who are rising juniors and seniors in high school.

2. NCSU Communication Summer Camp Focusing on Broadcasting, TV Production and Presentational Speaking.

Sponsored by the NCSU Department of Communication and College of Humanities and Social Sciences. July 18 – July 22, 2016. An intensive five-day workshop designed for rising junior and senior high school students interested in learning about television production — behind, and in front of, the camera. College instructors will provide individual training to a limited class of 24 students in a broadcast-quality studio on the NCSU campus. To learn more and to register, please visit: http://communication.chass.ncsu.edu/academics/other_programs/cc/cc.php.

3. Design Camp at NCSU College of Design

Design Camp is a pre-college design education summer program for middle school and high school students held at the College of Design. Design Camp informs students about college study in design and raises awareness of the impact of design in all aspects of our everyday lives. Design Camp is an action-packed week of inspiration, challenges, fun, and life-changing discoveries. This program, which has been a part of the College of Design at NC State for over 25 years, has provided thousands of design professionals with their first educational experience with design. If you are interested in being a designer someday, or are considering it, Design Camp is an experience not to miss! There are multiple sessions throughout the summer. For more information and to register, please visit: design.ncsu.edu/designcamp.

4. Cornell University Summer College

June 25 –August 9. This programs offers acclaimed precollege programs for motivated high school sophomore, juniors and seniors. Students can choose from more than 25 two, three, five or six week programs. Detailed Information can be found at: summercollege.cornell.edu.

5. Furman Scholars Summer Program

Two Sessions, July 10-16 and July 17-23. This is an opportunity for rising juniors and seniors to participate in classes led by some of Furman’s favorite professors, live on campus and get a taste of college life. Challenge your mind make new friends and have fun while taking part in lectures, discussions, debated and field trips. For information go to: furman.edu/summerscholars. The deadline to apply is May 1.

6. George Washington University Pre-College 2016

GW is offering credit and non-credit summer sessions for motivated high school students. Areas of study include Arts, Business, Communications, Government, History and STEM. Information can be found at: Precollege.gwu.edu. The deadline to apply is May 15.

7. Stanford University Pre-Collegiate Studies

Stanford offers a variety of summer programs for high school students with studies in Humanities, Arts and High School Camps. To learn more, go to: spcs.stanford.edu/collegecounselor.

8. Duke University Summer Session

Summer College for High School Students (grades 10 or 11) and Duke Summer Academy for High School Students (currently in grades 9, 10, 11, or 12). Opportunities include earning academic credit from renowned Duke Faculty; learning to be a Leader and a Global Citizen through personal enrichment courses; spending your summer enjoying residential activities such as ball games, a trip to Washington DC, outlet shopping, dances, talent shows, etc.; getting excited to prepare for college and create an international network of peers. For more information and to apply, please visit: <http://summersession.duke.edu/high-school-students/summer-college-for-high-school-students>. The deadline to apply is April 15.

9. William and Mary Pre-Collegiate Summer Program in Early American History

This program is for rising juniors and seniors and there are two three week sessions. June 26-July 16 and July 17-August 6. Students will study early American History through the use of historic places, including surviving structures and museums. Students will participate in daily discussion and seminars. Additional information and applications can be found at: <http://www.wm.edu/as/niahd/precollegiatesummer/index.php>.

10. Boston University PreCollege Summer Programs

Boston University offers six exciting programs for high school students over the summer. These cover a wide variety of subject areas. The programs run from 1 week up to 6 weeks. Information can be found at: bu.edu/summer/highschool.